The 4 modules in this course build on one another, however, you can take each module separately, if you wish. • In Module 1, we look at how to write translatable content, and at how to structure a document with translation in mind. • Module 2 explains how to prepare terminology and translation memory databases using the Trados Studio translation memory tool. • In Module 3, we focus on managing a translation project in Trados Studio. • And finally, in Module 4, we look at what you can do to check translation quality, and how to finalize your translation project.
